

Expect mail delays as a result of winter storm

The shipment and delivery of a large portion of mail and parcel from the Continental United States has been hindered by the severe winter storms. Patrons of the U.S. Postal Service are advised to expect delays in both directions. Frankfurt MCA discovered a large volume of preferred mail Feb. 2 manifested to the USPS that arrived late due to weather delays in the greater Philadelphia and New York City areas. The mail was dated Jan. 28, 2011. Currently mail is being processed and dispatched on available transports to U.S. Army Garrison Wiesbaden Postal Service Center and other locations.
